

Python Hunters - Michael Cole Biography

Michael Cole

Character, the Tracker

Solid, dependable, macho, and with his uncanny knack for spotting snakes and gators, Michael Cole is the eyes of the team. A hunter from way back, Michael has been breeding and working with large reptiles for 25 years. He's been a volunteer for the live capture and removal of nuisance alligators, has worked with law enforcement on the removal of native venomous and non-venomous snakes from human development areas, and since 2005, runs a full-time, family-owned and operated reptile business that ships animals to over two dozen countries, and supplies zoos in the U.S. and beyond.
