

Python Hunters - Shawn Heflick Biography

Shawn Heflick Character, the Biologist

A wisecracking field biologist with 30 years of experience, adrenaline-junkie Shawn Heflick has traveled the world catching reptiles and amphibians, has bred over 100 different species, and is the only person in the State of Florida licensed to privately own and breed Komodo dragons. Always up for adventure, Shawn is passionate and knowledgeable about conservation, the Everglades and most of all, reptiles. And, whether he's extracting venom from a rattlesnake, consulting on a Hollywood blockbuster (Transformers II, Spiderman III), or hunting for giant pythons in the field, this committed family man is serious about his work.
